agBox is your infinitely customizable resource for bringing tangible assets to the world of video conferencing. More than just a box, agBox is designed to provide an immersive and memorable experience for the recipient, no matter the occasion.

How it works:

01

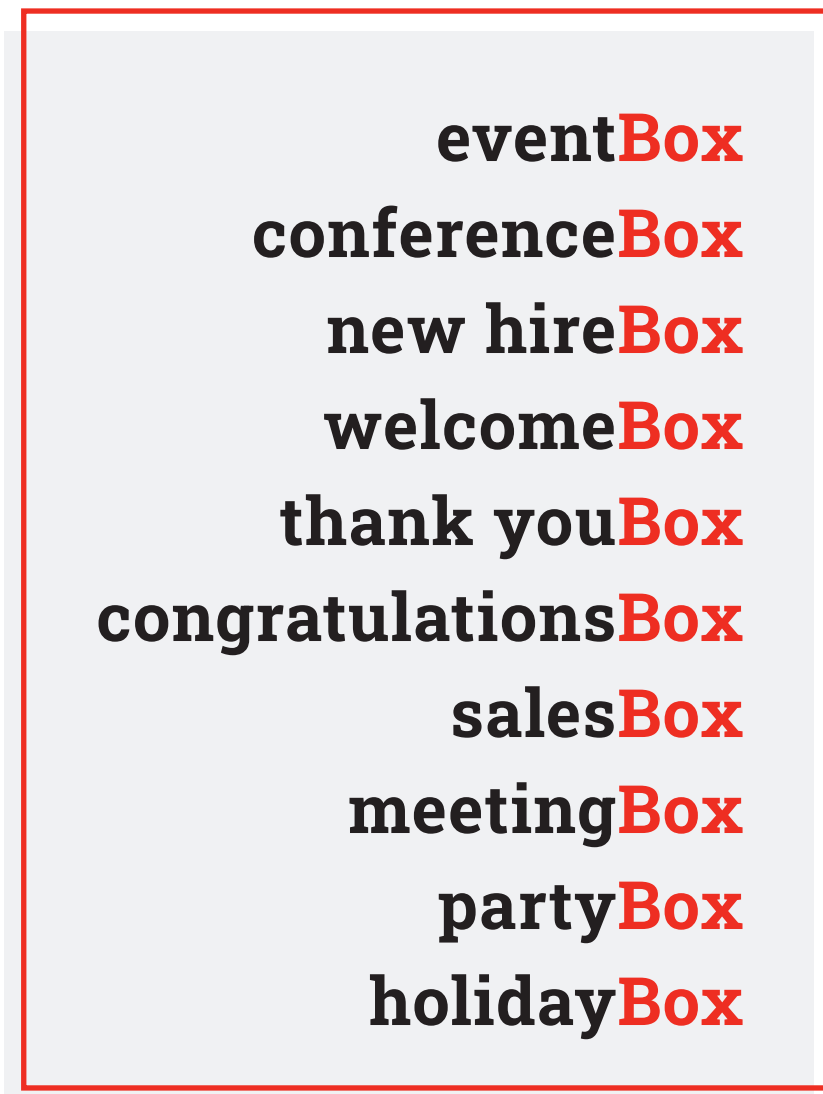

Spark the excitement by delivering a custom-designed package full of branded swag and printed materials.

02

As they unwrap it and discover what's inside, your customer will feel more engaged and connected with your brand.

Think inside the box.

Partner with AlphaGraphics to customize your very own agBox. What you put inside is completely up to you! No matter what, we'll help you deliver an experience that goes above and beyond your audience's expectations.

Conference in a Box

Amp up the excitement and the attendee experience at your next virtual conference or event.

Nothing beats in-person attendance when it comes to connecting with other professionals at a conference. But it doesn't have to be a struggle to get the same level of engagement from your virtual attendees as you would in an in-person setting.

Enhance the virtual experience by providing a custom-branded conference in a box, packed with swag, goodies, and printed conference materials.
