FAMILY NURSE PRACTITIONER

Renew Health and Wellness in Cornelius is owned and led by the husband-and-wife Family Nurse Practitioner team of Dr. Micah Kirscher, DNP, FNP-C; and Dr. Coral Kirscher, DNP, FNP-C. They met during their doctoral program at Frontier University in Lexington, KY, where they both earned their Doctor of Nursing Practice degrees specializing as a family nurse practitioner.

"We created Renew because we were fed up with a traditional medical system that is more concerned with insurance guidelines rather than treatment guidelines, and the patient factories who are only concerned with the bottom line rather than patient outcomes," Micah says. "Coral specializes in weight loss, anti-aging/longevity medicine and women's hormone optimization, and I in men's testosterone/hormone replacement, hair restoration and regenerative medicine."

The practice's goal is to treat the underlying condition rather than just prescribe medication to treat a group of symptoms. The list of specialties at Renew Health and Wellness is vast, including treatments for men's health, hair restoration, weight loss, pain management using non-steroidal regenerative treatments and class IV laser therapy.

The Kirschers believe what sets their practice apart is that theirs is a true "family practice" and not bound by some corporate oversight requiring them to see far too many patients in a day, spending far too little time with them. They strive to develop personal connections with their patients and to understand the personal struggles of not being "heard" by traditional medicine they may have endured.

The doctors say their current practice is their idea of perfect happiness, and that they love working together.

"A lot of people thought we were going to fail because we would be spending too much time together," Micah says. "I feel honored to be able to go to work and sit next to Coral each day then go home and live our life outside the clinic together. There's nobody else in this world I would be able to do this with, that is for sure." ■
