

New pay-per-mile insurance just rolled into town.

Say hello to Milewise®

Don't drive much? Or very far? Check out Milewise from Allstate. It's a new pay-per-mile car insurance that offers the same trusted coverage and claims support, but at a low price based on how much and how safe you drive.

Is Milewise right for me?

Milewise is designed for low-mileage drivers and those who want more transparency and control over the price they pay. It's a great option for many people, including:

- Stay-at-home parents, retirees or part-time workers
- Commuters who walk, bike or take public transportation
- Drivers who work close to home or work from home

How it works

You pay a daily rate plus a per-mile rate which are adjusted at renewal using your driving information.

For better daily and per-mile rates:

Limit sudden braking

Keep speeds below 80 mph

Limit the late-night trips between 11:00 PM and 3:59 AM

Frequently Asked Questions

What if I drive one of my cars a lot?

If you have one car that you drive more often, you can select an Unlimited mileage option for that car. That way, you pay only the daily rate — no matter how many miles you drive that car.

What if I take a long trip?

No problem. We cap the number of miles you pay for each car. If you reach your daily mileage cap, your miles are on us.

What if I try Milewise and change my mind?

You can switch to a traditional auto policy at any time by contacting your Allstate agent.
