

Routine Well Visit Schedule

Each well visit is an opportunity for the parent to raise questions and concerns about their child's development, behavior and general well being – questions that are difficult to discuss during sick visits due to time constraints. As your child grows into an adolescent and young adult, this is a time for the child to ask questions of the provider as well.

Well child care is very important from birth through college.

These visits provide the necessary physical and vaccination forms for school, daycare, sports, and summer camps.

Newborn – Within 2-5 days of your child being born
