

Permission for Telehealth Visits

What is telehealth?

Telehealth is a way to visit with healthcare provider, such as Dr. Muffley

You can talk to your doctor from any place, including your home.

How do I use telehealth?

- You talk to your provider by phone, computer, or tablet.
- Sometimes, you use video so you and your provider can see each other.

How does telehealth help me?

- You don't have to go to a clinic or hospital to see your provider.
- You won't risk getting sick from other people.

Can telehealth be bad for me?

- You and your provider won't be in the same room, so it may feel different than an office visit.
- Your provider may decide you still need an office visit. Such as a monthly visit to obtain labs and urine drug screens.
- Technical problems may interrupt or stop your visit before you are done.

Will my telehealth visit be private?

- We will not record visits with your provider.
- If people are close to you, they may hear something you did not want them to know. You should be in a private place, so other people cannot hear you.
- We use telehealth technology that is designed to protect your privacy.

What if I want an office visit, not a telehealth visit?

For now, almost all visits are by telehealth. You cannot schedule an office visit now, unless it is for:

- Any gynecological issue
